OK, I admit it, there seems to be rather a lot of beer mentioned in this programme. But Martin Luther himself was fond of the odd pint - although he condemned drinking to excess. That being the case there is nothing amiss with enjoying a beer or non-alcoholic option and opening up the Bible together, so tankards and testaments at the ready lads, come and join the discussion.

Gentlemen, your attention please...

What is a "Journeyman"? One dictionary defines him as "an artisan who has completed an apprenticeship and is fully trained and qualified but still works for an employer" and in some ways that sums up how we as Christian men should see ourselves – as skilled craftsmen in the art of living God honouring lives, men who are trained up and qualified to serve our LORD and who still work for him with passion and commitment.

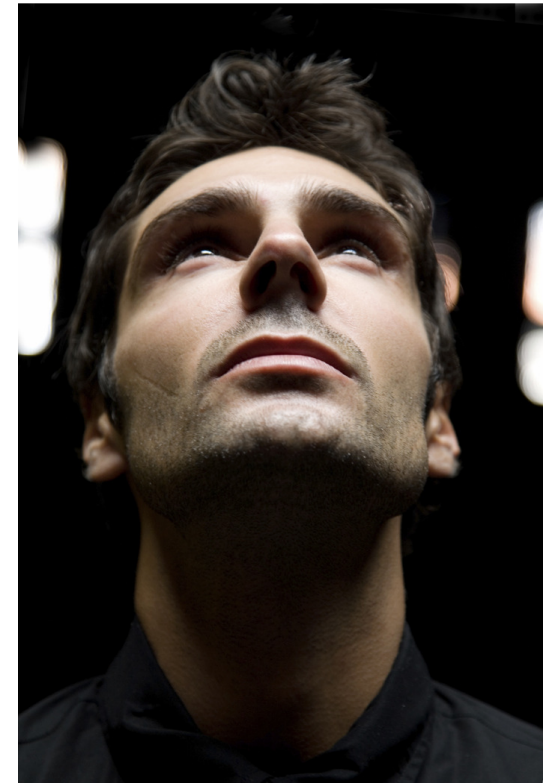

On another level we are all men on a journey, exploring who God is and what it means to be a godly man – coming to faith and then applying that to our lives, our hobbies, our families and our work.

Journey Men is a men's group for anyone from the inquisitive to the committed as together we journey on encouraging one another, enjoying being the men God has made us to be and growing closer to the mighty God of the universe.
